

Moves & Views

Views

KRG Children's Charitable Foundation - Media Library

EXTORTED FROM www.canadianunderwriter.ca

A Durham region mother of eight celebrated Mother's Day early this year when KRG Children's Charitable Foundation presented her family with a wheelchair-access van. For Kari Murphy, who has seven children with special needs, the van is essential for supporting her family's day-to-day needs and their continual visits to The Hospital for Sick Children. Her family's new wheelchair van is big enough to transport the entire family. KRG Children's Charitable Foundation purchased the new vehicle for the Murphy family through Oakville-based Liberty Motor Company. Steve Wise, chairman of KRG Children's Charitable Foundation and chairman and CEO of KRG Insurance Group, presented the van to the Murphy's on behalf of the KRG Children's Charitable Foundation.
